Publicity Guide Master Sheet

This is a master sheet to use to publicize your event or your event's needs (such as donation requests or volunteers). You do not have to take advantage of all the publicity opportunities on this sheet, but you are strongly encouraged to follow the time guidelines on the ones you use. This is so you can get maximum advantage from your publicity, and in some cases, you will not be able to publicize at all if you do not meet the deadlines. The church recommends that you start the publicity tasks at least four months before your event. If you cannot follow all the timelines, the church will still do its best to help your ministry.

The *document (see last column in this master sheet) to consult for specific information about each task is the Glen Mar Publicity Resource Guide. It can be found at <http://pdfs.glenmarumc.org/GMResourceGuide.pdf>. Be sure you have the Glen Mar Publicity Guide that has the 5/2020 date on the last page of the guide under the heading "Changes to this Publicity Resource Guide." If you have a version of the guide with a different date, the page numbers under the "Where to Find in Document" column in this Master Sheet will not be accurate.

How to Use this Sheet:

- Read through this sheet to get an idea of the possible publicity opportunities. Cross out the opportunities that you do not want to pursue. When deciding where to publicize, consider factors such as whether you want to invite people outside of the church, if there is enough space and manpower to accommodate a large turnout, and whether the people receiving the information are the ones who would be interested in your activity.
- For each opportunity you will pursue, calculate the "Date to Finish Task," using your event date and the "Recommended Timeline." Insert that date in the "Date to Finish Task" column.
- It's a good idea to have one person in charge of publicity, and that person can dole out certain specific tasks if needed. Whatever method you use, assign each of the tasks that your ministry wants done to a team member. Put the names of those who will handle publicity tasks in the "Person Who Will Handle Task" column. Give those who will handle tasks the link for the Glen Mar Publicity Resource Guide document and the location of the information they need (found in "Where to Find in Document" column) so they can look up the relevant details.
- If you have questions, contact communications@glenmarumc.org.
